Experience Makes the Difference!

James L. Pero owns and operates ATech Investigation Services, Inc. Since 1983 Jim has managed thousands of personal and corporate investigation cases and has conducted hundreds of large-scale undercover operations. He was co-founder of Trace Investigation Services where he worked for 17 years. Mr. Pero has also worked in the retail industry as a Director of Security for a major retail chain. Throughout his career, he has also performed executive protection services for celebrities such as Frank Sinatra, Elizabeth Taylor, the Cast of Cheers (including John Ratzenberger) and numerous others. Mr. Pero has been featured in the Providence Journal, Boston Magazine, and on Channel's 5 and 25 for current cases.

Barry Barros attended University of Massachusetts (Lowell) for Criminal Justice and began his career working with Dunbar Armored car services. His responsibilities were sales, investigations & protection of assets. Barry Barros was then hired in 2001 by Trace Investigation Services as an account executive, managing the daily functions which entailed being in charge of investigators and sales for the MA, NH, RI & FL offices. He has conducted missing persons, background checks, asset checks, surveillance and other investigations. Barry has managed hundreds of surveillance cases including insurance, corporations & personal matters. Barry has since been the Director of Operations at ATech Investigation since 2006, which he manages all of the investigators and daily operations for each case that is performed at the agency in MA, NH, RI, CT, VT, FL, NY & ME. Barry is also a licensed Private Investigator and Constable in Massachusetts.
